ROBERT STRAWBRIDGE HOUSE
New Windsor Vicinity
Private

Robert Strawbridge came to this country at the age of twenty-eight and established himself near New Windsor. In the 1760's, he built this simple, but functional structure and proceeded to preach the word of Methodism, which he brought with him from Ireland and from the mouth of John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist Church. It stands today as the first Methodist Meeting House in America, and was designated a National Methodist Shrine in 1940.

This three-bay, two-story house which entertained many converts in its day is a living testimony of Reverend Strawbridge and his particular rural, out of town, very simple missionary methods. — position.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The house is very simple. It is a two-story log cabin, now covered with white clapboards and an uncoursed fieldstone foundation. The gable roof is wood, covered with standing seam sheet metal. Bays number three of uneven spacing. The structure has one central chimney.

Windows are all 2/2, with plain trim and no shutters. Second floor windows are of a smaller dimension. Decorative motifs are non-existent, save for modest turned wood on the front screen doors, which were most likely added later.

The farmhouse has a three-bay front entrance porch on the first floor, with four column supports, a shed roof and a balustered railing. A back porch also runs the length of the house on the first floor, with five columns and a concrete floor. A basement and attic complete the structure.

Outbuildings are all of clapboard and include a springhouse, smokehouse, chicken coup, one small and one large barn. The latter two have low stone foundations.

 STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE Strawbridge

The Strawbridge House was designated a National Methodist Shrine by the General Conference of 1940. It is of National historical significance for it stands as the first Methodist Meeting House in America, with hewn logs without backs for seats and a 24' X 24' dirt floor area for the congregation.

The very first log meeting house is no longer standing. It is believed to have stood where the present building now stands.

Robert Strawbridge was born in Drumsnaugh, Ireland, and at the age of twenty-one was converted to Methodism. Soon after he began to preach. At the age of twenty-eight, with his bride, he came to America and settled near New Windsor. He became the first preacher of Methodism in America.

Reverend Strawbridge chose to build outside of town, to keep his gospel simple and administer to simple people. The house remains a monument to his simplicity. True, it stands as a monument to Methodism in the United States, but also to the man who before the age of 50, had covered much of the Middle Atlantic region with his preaching and had left behind him a trail of meeting "places," which were subsequently to become churches. John Wesley, the founder of Methodism in England spread its fire there, as did Strawbridge in America before it was to become one of the largest Protestant denominations we have.

By the 200th anniversary of the United Methodist Church in 1984, the farm will also be the site of the John Evans House, located on Marston Road, where Strawbridge moved his meetings in the interim of his house being rebuilt. In the area also will be a replica of the first log meeting house and a new caretakers house.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The house where The Rev. Strawbridge lived is a early nineteenth century brick dwelling* with later Victorian additions. The house is T shaped with the main block facing the East. This portion has an "A" frame roof, the ridge of which runs N-S. To the rear of south wall is a 2 storey addition with a 2 storey projecting bay at its exposed (W.) end.

Roofing is tin and there ~~are~~ is a single interior chimney at ea. end of the 1st. block.

An interesting brick barn nearby has the hourglass designed vents in its gable ends - a feature not too unique in this area.
